Meat Supplies Dwindle; Packers Still Not Buying

TORONTO (CP)—Meat supplies dwindled in retail stores throughout the country today as the large packing chains maintained their policy of refusing to pay prices for live cattle that would not afford them a margin on sales of dressed meat at Prices Board ceiling.

At Toronto stocks of beef on hand in retail stores were fast disappearing. The shortage was also becoming acute at London, Ont., and at Vancouver a severe shortage was predicted within 10 day unless cattle marketing returns to normal.

There were 700 head of cattle left unsold on the Toronto livestock market Wednesday night. Marketing of cattle was reported at a standstill at Calgary and Edmonton. Bert McDonald, president of the Toronto Livestock Exchange, said the large packers were offering $10 to $15 a head lower for cattle. With the reduction in bids from the large chains farmers were expected to withhold further shipments from the market until the deadlock has been broken.

DESIRE PROFIT

The packers' standpoint was explained by J. S. McLean, president of Canada Packers Ltd., who said at Toronto that buyers have been instructed to buy live cattle only at prices which would make possible sale of slaughtered cattle at ceiling prices without loss.

J. H. Tapley, president of the Swift Canadian Company, said the Prices Board had set a ceiling for sale of meat to the retail trade, and obviously live cattle must be bought in line with this ceiling. "Cattle bought at recent live prices must have been sold at beef at severe losses, or in the black market at higher than ceiling prices," he said.

SERIOUS SWING

Tapley supported McLean's statement regarding losses suffered in recent purchases and he added: "The situation became so serious that we decided to buy our live cattle in line with the legal price ceiling, or else pass them up."

Spokesmen for the packers at Vancouver said the only certain method of avoiding a shortage would be for the Prices Board to raise wholesale and retail ceiling prices to permit packers to pay producers a price that would permit them to sell.

British Ambassador Presents Credentials in Greece

Sir Clifford Norton, left above, has taken over the post of British ambassador at Athens amid changing cabinet scenes. The Poulitsas cabinet resigned and today Constantin Tsaldaris became Premier, with a number of shifts in portfolios.

Britain Opposes Demand By Poland To Outlaw Spain; Russia Loses Fight

NEW YORK (AP)—Britain today opposed the Polish demand that the United Nations break diplomatic relations with Franco Spain and declared it had no confirmation that German scientists were working on new weapons of war under Spanish cover.

Britain thus lined up beside the Netherlands in opposing Poland's demand. Poland thus far has the support of the Mexican and French delegates in the Council.

"I cannot admit that the case so far made against the Spanish government has established such a threat to the peace, breach of the peace, or act of aggression, and I do not therefore consider it is appropriate to ask now for a collective severance of diplomatic relations," Sir Alexander said.

The Polish delegate, Dr. Oscar Lange, in presenting his case Wednesday asked that the Security Council call on the United Nations to break off diplomatic relations with the Franco government.

WATCHED BY ENVOYS
Sir Alexander indicated in his talk that something was being done in Spain to uproot the German influence there, which was part of the Polish case against Spain. He said this was being done at the instance of "our diplomatic missions who are watching closely the actions of the Spanish Government and are urging them to meet their obligations."

"If these missions were removed," he said, "the field would be left free to the Germans in Spain and we should have no check upon them."

"For all these reasons I am unable to vote for the resolution which the Polish delegate has submitted to the council."

The British delegate said the British Embassy in Madrid had reported in January there "was no evidence whatsoever to suggest German scientists in Spain were engaged in scientific research on new methods of warfare and we have no information to date which would confirm this allegation."

STUDIED BY MISSIONS
Sir Alexander told the Council British official reports indicated

Squadron Leader Must Face Trial Says Magistrate

Betting Booth At Vancouver Downtown Office

VANCOUVER (CP)—The B.C. Turf and Country Club will operate a betting booth at its downtown office this summer in an attempt to eliminate book-making, it was announced today. The club owns Lansdowne and Brighouse tracks.

General Manager Al Hardy said full track prices will be paid winning wagers and no commission will be charged by the club. All bets would have to be in club offices a half hour before post time of the first race. The money wagered would be taken to the track and the bets made there.

There will be no service on results at the offices, Mr. Hardy said, adding they would be closed while races are being run off.

For several years persons with a civic messenger license were allowed to record bets at their downtown offices and theoretically the money was taken to the track with the licensee taking 10 per cent of all bets as a service charge. The city council decided last year to refuse to allow any such licenses in future.

U.S. Bill On Prices Badly Mauled Goes For Senate Action

WASHINGTON (AP)—The House voted overwhelmingly today to continue the office of Price Administration for nine months, but in a form O.P.A. Administrator Paul Porter said would wreck price control. It was one of President Truman's worst legislative defeats since he entered the White House a year ago.

The roll-call vote on passage was 355 to 42.

The House tossed the amendment-ridden bill over to the Senate, where the White House said today President Truman hopes for "much better results."

Asked at a news conference if the Chief Executive had any comment on the House amendments, Press Secretary Charles G. Ross told reporters: "Not for print."

Efficiency of Unrra May Be Debated in Commons After Easter

By NORMAN M. MACLEOD
Victoria Times Staff
Correspondent

OTTAWA—An interesting question of the moment in government circles here is whether "Little Flower" Fiorella LaGuardia will accept the hint given him on the floor of Parliament and acquit Canada publicly of the charge of "kicking Unrra around."

Unless LaGuardia does so, federal officialdom intimates an Unrra debate is certain to ensue in the House of Commons here which will have reverberations in every nation in which Unrra has operated.

It will drag out into the open, officials declare, the charge which is common gossip in Parliamentary lobbies to the effect that, while Unrra has been shipping wheat to Russian zones in Europe, the Soviet government has been shipping wheat right across these zones to France in an effort to influence the approaching French elections in favor of the Communist Party.

The explosive and fast-talking LaGuardia, who recently charged unspecified nations with attempting to "kick Unrra around," was invited to dissociate Canada from his charge indirectly when Trade Minister James A. MacKinnon read to the Commons the figures which told the story of Canada's Unrra participation.

Mr. MacKinnon read the figures on the orders of the day, without any comment, and with the bare introduction that he was doing so "in view of the widespread public discussion at the present time with regard to Unrra."

Government sources declare that in such a debate the Ministry would make no attempt to spare Unrra, but would permit its whole record of questionable efficiency to come into the light of day.

OTTAWA (CP)—Magistrate Glenn Strike said today he would commit Sqdn. Ldr. Fred Poland of Montreal on a charge of communicating information to Russian agents illegally.

The magistrate said the Crown had established sufficient presumption of complicity to warrant committal of the former R.C.A.F. intelligence officer.

He said formal committal would be made next Tuesday. Earlier the magistrate had reserved judgment in the preliminary hearing of Prof. Israel Halperin of Queen's University, charged with conspiracy and with violation of the Secrets Act.

During the morning session, Capt. David Gordon Lunan left the witness stand during Halperin's hearing after objecting to answering questions on the grounds that it violated his oath of secrecy before the Royal Commission on espionage.

Alleged head of a cell of Russian agents said to include Halperin, Lunan balked when the Crown asked him if he had met Lt.-Col. Rogov, former assistant military attaché at the Russian Embassy.

Magistrate, Glenn Strike said there were "reasonable grounds" for Lunan's request to consult his lawyer, H. L. Cartwright of Kingston, and permitted him to leave the stand to do so.

An attempt will be made in the meantime to have him released by the commission from his oath.

Lunan took the stand under protection of the Canada Evidence Act, which rules that nothing he might say could later be used against him.

Already committed for trial, he was held in contempt of court at Montreal last month for refusing to answer questions in the preliminary hearing of Fred Rose, Labor-Progressive M.P. for Montreal-Cartier, who now also has been committed for trial under the Official Secrets Act.

Igor Gouzenko, former cipher clerk at the Soviet Embassy here, was on the witness stand most of the morning, testifying in the Halperin case and also as first witness in the preliminary hearing of Sqdn. Ldr. Fred Poland, which was started after the interruption in the Halperin case.

Halperin Elects Trial By Jury

Halperin, a native of Toronto, elected trial by jury on charges of conspiracy and breaking the Official Secrets Act by obtaining and communicating documents intended to be useful to Russia.

The conspiracy charge alleged he worked with Lt.-Col. Rogov, former Russian assistant military attaché, and Gordon Lunan, Ed-waged Mazerall and Durnford Smith, three other accused.

Gouzenko identified a number of documents which he said he had taken from the Embassy secret files. One was headed "Scheme of Research Group" and included an organizational chart in which the name "Isadore Halperin" appeared. The documents outlined information sought from the National Research Council and on research in general.

Another was a report from Capt. Gordon Lunan, Canadian Information Service official, which said: "I have received an excellent report on Bacon (Halperin's code name) and approached him more directly than the others... he seemed anxious to be of help."

Lunan said Halperin had undertaken to provide information on the Valcartier explosive plant and claimed there was no particular secrecy about the setup.

Lunan said of Halperin at one point: "I don't think Bacon is sufficiently impressed with the conspiratorial nature of our work."

One document, Prosecutor Cartwright said, referred to a report given by Bacon (Halperin) and said "additional details" were offered.

R. M. W. Chitty of Toronto, defence counsel, did not cross-examine Gouzenko.

Armament Director Identifies Notebook

Col. W. E. van Steenburg, director of armament development and former director of artillery, was called. He identified a notebook as one which his assistant, Capt. J. E. Shell, had found in Halperin's desk.

In answer to questions from Defence Counsel Chitty, Col. van Steenburg said he could not prove it belonged to Halperin.

He also identified a report which, he said, included information which would have been disclosed if an official request had been received.

Other information probably would not have been disclosed, but there had been no request from the Soviet Embassy for such information.

Col. van Steenburg said the information was vague.

Cpl. Robert Kay of the R.C.M.P., then identified a notebook submitted in a document as one he had found in Halperin's home in Kingston Feb. 15 when he was detained.

He was the last witness and the Halperin case was adjourned subject to later recall of Lunan.

The magistrate said today he had reached a decision as to committal of Durnford Smith, Hull, Que., National Research Council engineer, and adjourned the case again until Tuesday. He has decided to commit Smith on an Official Secrets Act charge.

The case of Eric Adams of Montreal was adjourned until Wednesday and that of Dr. David Shugar of Toronto to Tuesday for judgment.

Manna Charta To Be Shown in U.S.

LONDON (Reuter)—British peers have taken the first step to permit temporary export of the most venerated document of English history—a copy of the 13th century Magna Charta—for exhibition in the Library of Congress.

The document in question—the so-called Lacock Abbey Magna Charta, dated Feb. 11, 1225—is the property of the British Museum. Its removal will require sanction by Act of Parliament, and the Lords Wednesday gave first reading to the bill.

House Adjourns for Easter After Debating Control of Resources

OTTAWA (CP)—The Commons today stood adjourned until April 29 for the Easter recess after a quiet debate on the pros and cons of government control and operation of Canada's developed and undeveloped mineral resources.

The Senate adjourned last week until April 30.

The debate on mineral resources arose from a resolution by Clarence Gillis, C.C.F., Cape Breton South, urging the government to consider the advisability of bringing them under government control. The motion, a private one, was "talked out," no action having been taken on it before adjournment.

Four speakers, all expressing opposition, debated the resolution. They were Solon Low, Social Credit leader; J. R. MacNicol, P.C. Toronto-Davenport; Joseph Bradette, Lib., Cochrane, Ont., and Dr. M. E. McGarry, Lib., Inverness-Richmond, N.S.

In moving his resolution, Mr. Gillis dealt particularly with the Nova Scotia coal mining industry and said it should be taken over by the federal government because it was heavily subsidized and needed some measure of public supervision.

Mr. Low cited the records of government administration of the natural resources in Alberta and Saskatchewan from 1905 to 1930, when they were turned back to the provinces, as a reason why they should not be nationalized.

The federal government, when it turned over administration to the provinces, left behind a legacy of complex problems which it would take decades to solve.

He expressed belief the mine operators of Nova Scotia and Alberta had not paid sufficient attention to the processing and cleaning of coal before it was shipped to market.

Mr. Bradette said the government would not nationalize the mines of Canada without nationalizing other industries, because one such step led to another. There was no such simple remedy for the country's problems.

Dr. McGarry said that through public ownership there would be economic loss through wasted effort and lack of simplification and co-ordination.

Mr. McGarry also said that the time when British leaders were demanding all help possible for a drive on Berlin, Mr. Churchill made it plain he wanted to see British troops in the German capital before the Russians got there.

Churchill's Aide Refutes Charges

LONDON (Reuter)—Winston Churchill had no comment to make Wednesday night on critical references to him in Ralph Ingersoll's new book, "Top Secret," recently published in the United States. A secretary said, however, Mr. Churchill had received a copy of the book.

Mr. Ingersoll, who during the war served as a liaison officer with the United States army, is publisher of PM, New York morning newspaper.

The London Daily Sketch said that "a representative of Mr. Churchill," commenting on statements in "Top Secret," described as "utter tosh" Mr. Ingersoll's allegations that the late President Roosevelt and Mr. Churchill "never forgave each other following disputes on strategy during the final stages of the war in the west."

In his book, the New York publisher claimed Mr. Roosevelt and Mr. Churchill broke sharply over the strategy of the final drive in Germany and the President died at a time when there was a coolness between him and the British wartime Prime Minister.

Mr. Ingersoll also wrote that at the time when British leaders were demanding all help possible for a drive on Berlin, Mr. Churchill made it plain he wanted to see British troops in the German capital before the Russians got there.

Sick Trapper Flown Out For Treatment

FORT ST. JOHN, B.C. (CP)—Len Hope, trapper living southwest of Watson Lake, Y.T., was reported in improved condition in hospital today after Bob Moon, formerly of the R.C.A.F., and another trapper had trapped out an airstrip with his snowshoes to enable a commercial pilot, Herman Peterson, to pick Hope up and fly him to Watson Lake for treatment of an infected hand and partial paralysis.

Moon found Hope partially paralyzed as a result of a cerebral hemorrhage and notified Constable Farnon of the B.C. Police at Lower Post, 21 miles south of Watson Lake, who got in touch with R.C.A.F. authorities at the lake and arranged to have Peterson fly Hope in.

'Terrible Guilt' Admitted By Nazi Governor of Poland

NUERNBERG (AP)—Hans Frank, Nazi governor of German-occupied Poland, told the International Military Tribunal here today that "I feel terrible guilt within me" for the atrocities of the Nazi regime.

Claiming some of these crimes only recently became known to him, Frank declared from the witness stand.

"Speaking from the depths of my emotion, after five months of this trial, I have gained an insight to what was committed in the way of terrible atrocities."

Speaking in a loud, clear voice, Frank held the court with his candid admissions of guilt as he virtually threw himself upon its mercy.

He freely admitted the Nazi crimes against the Jews and his share of the guilt in those crimes—a guilt which he said would "not be erased in thousands of years."

"Did you participate in the destruction of the Jews?" his attorney asked.

"I say yes," Frank replied. "I cannot allow it before my conscience that responsibility for this should be handed to small people alone. I never installed concentration camps for Jews, but if Adolf Hitler turned over that dreadful responsibility to people of his, it must be mine too."

He said he would "bear responsibility" for the events in Poland during his tenure as governor, but hedged with a claim that his authority was "extremely limited" and that he had no control over the S.S.

He acknowledged that he had introduced ghettos in Poland and issued a decree for forced labor, but claimed: "I was thinking of labor within the country to repair war damage."

He said his efforts to better the lot of the Poles and give them a share in the government had been thwarted.

"I didn't repeat my offer of resignation 14 times for nothing."

He denied plundering Polish art treasures and maintained he had tried to safeguard them in Poland. He said most of them had been taken as "booty of war" before he became governor.

Frank, who attempted suicide three times while in confinement, appeared calm and confident as he began his testimony.

He said he would "bear responsibility" for the events in Poland during his tenure as governor, but hedged with a claim that his authority was "extremely limited" and that he had no control over the S.S.

He acknowledged that he had introduced ghettos in Poland and issued a decree for forced labor, but claimed: "I was thinking of labor within the country to repair war damage."

He said his efforts to better the lot of the Poles and give them a share in the government had been thwarted.

"I didn't repeat my offer of resignation 14 times for nothing."

He denied plundering Polish art treasures and maintained he had tried to safeguard them in Poland. He said most of them had been taken as "booty of war" before he became governor.

Seek New Basis For French Cabinet

PARIS (CP)—In an effort to avert the threatened resignation of Foreign Minister Georges Bidault and other Mouvement Republicain Populaire members of the cabinet, President Felix Gouin today appealed to the Constituent Assembly to forget party differences in debating France's proposed new constitution.

He told the Assembly the government as a whole would abstain from voting on constitutional issues dividing the M.R.P. from the other two members of the coalition government—the Socialists and the Communists. He thus acceded to the M.R.P. thesis that participation in the government and support of or opposition to the constitution were different subjects. Earlier in the week M. Gouin was reported to be insisting all members support the proposed constitution.

M. Gouin's address followed a series of M.R.P. defeats in the Assembly Wednesday over constitutional issues—defeats which raised fears the M.R.P. members might quit the three-party coalition government.

M.R.P. deputies had walked out of the Constituent Assembly earlier in the day, but returned later, only to be outvoted at every turn.

AIR PRIORITIES END
OTTAWA (CP)—Granting of priorities for air travel on domestic lines in Canada has been abolished, effective from Wednesday midnight, Reconstruction Minister Howe announced.

April 30 Deadline for Public To Submit Designs for New Flag

OTTAWA (CP)—Members of the House of Commons and the Senate who have selected possible designs for a Canadian flag have mainly divided their selections into classes featuring the Union Jack or maple leaf, or both, it was learned today.

However, fewer than half the members of the joint committee, established to choose a design for a distinctive Canadian flag, have submitted their favorite selections from among the 2,000 or more designs contributed by individuals, organizations and societies.

The committee members were given from April 9 to April 16 to choose five designs each from among the submissions. A lengthy Senate adjournment and the departure of Commons members for the Easter recess limited the number of choices before the deadline.

TO EXTEND TIME
It is believed the deadline will be extended after the recess to enable all committee members to file their selections.

Walter Harris, Lib. Grey-Bruce, Ont., joint chairman of the committee, said the idea behind having members make definite selections was to reduce the number of designs to about 200.

He described it as a "first screening," with others to follow. Deadline for submission of designs by the public has been set for April 30. Any submitted after April 9 will be considered along with the choices made by committee members.

In making their choices, members enter the spacious railway committee room where the 2,000 designs are on display. They mark down the serial number of their choice in the order in which they believe they should go and then file them with the committee secretary, Antoine Chasse.

The choices so far are divided between designs featuring the Union Jack or maple leaf, or both. Some of these designs include the Union Jack in the upper left corner near the staff and the maple leaf in the fly.

VARIED BACKGROUNDS
Others include variations of red, white and blue backgrounds with green maple leaves. Still others show only the Union Jack in the upper left corner on varied backgrounds.

Government leaders and Progressive Conservative Party members have indicated they would support retention of the Union Jack in some form in a new Canadian flag. C.C.F. members have indicated they would prefer a flag that would be entirely distinctive from that of any country and this view has found support among several government supporters from Quebec.

When the committee finally decides on a design it will report its findings to Parliament and the whole matter will be threshed on the floor of both the Commons and the Senate.

Jerusalem Guarded As Thronas Observe Maundy Thursday

JERUSALEM (AP)—Through streets lined with barbed wire barricades and teeming with armed troops, thousands streamed into this ancient city today to see Christian worshippers recreate with symbolic ceremonies the last hours before Christ was crucified.

An undercurrent of tension prevailed throughout the Holy City as Palestine's three-cornered Arab-Jewish-British political controversy was complicated by a country-wide strike of 50,000 civil servants, who are demanding increased pay and better working conditions.

A three-hour walkout in sympathy with the strikers, was set for today by several thousand persons employed in special war-time departments of the Palestine government.

Although so-called terrorist groups have been idle for the past few days, there was no relaxation by authorities, who remained alert against any possible outbreak. Arab legionnaires, with automatic rifles slung over their shoulders, mingled with the colorfully garbed celebrants of the sacred rites of antiquity.

Easter observance of the western and eastern Christian faiths coincide this year, making the Holy Sepulchre site and other sacred places more crowded with worshippers than usual.

The ancient rites of Maundy Thursday began at daybreak and continued throughout the day as sect after sect staged its interpretation of the events of the day on which Christ led the disciples into the "upper room" for "The Last Supper."

Only 36,000 Troops Serving Overseas

OTTAWA (CP)—On March 31 there were 36,600 army personnel serving outside Canada, Defence Minister Abbott disclosed in the Commons Wednesday.

This figure did not include 3,000 troops in transit to Canada on that date. The total was made of 16,900 men in the occupation force and 19,400 others.

Truck-Trailer Falls Into Harbor

VANCOUVER (CP)—Denis Hobbs, 28-year-old shed foreman for B.C. Steamships Ltd., escaped serious injury Wednesday when the 10-wheel truck-trailer he was driving crashed through a guard rail and fell 20 feet into the harbor.

He was backing the heavy vehicle down the B.C. Packers' dock when the end of the dock collapsed beneath the weight. His brakes failed to hold, and truck and trailer plunged over the end into the water.

The impact of the truck hitting the water broke the windshield and Hobbs was able to pull himself out of the cab.

UNIFORMITY NEEDED

REGARDLESS OF THE MERITS OF arguments for or against Daylight Saving Time, it should be obvious that a community such as Greater Victoria cannot be divided into groups which observe the policy of advancing the clock and those which do not. The city, like Vancouver, has endorsed the change. Adjacent municipalities have still to take action on the matter. Undoubtedly they will conform to Victoria's lead. As the business centre goes, in this case, so must those districts from which come businessmen and their staffs.

Conditions across Canada will be sufficiently confused as it is. No national policy has been laid down and provinces have left the issue to the municipalities for settlement. Rural and unorganized communities, where the voice of the farmer has preponderant weight, may favor Standard Time. In the cities, where office workers are particularly grateful for an extra hour of sunlight on summer afternoons and evenings, the swing is naturally the other way.

For the sake of uniformity—and only through it can unnecessary dislocation be avoided, it might be well for the Dominion government to reassert the prerogative it enjoyed as a war measure and make some definite ruling on time. Only through application on a national basis can confusion be avoided. It appears obvious that both factions in the time-changing dispute cannot be satisfied. But neither would escape inconvenience if two systems were in force.

DOMINION-PROVINCIAL TALKS

THE PROVINCIAL DELEGATION OF cabinet ministers under the leadership of Premier John Hart is once more settling forth on its pilgrimage to Ottawa to determine the future financial arrangements which must govern Dominion-Provincial relations for some years to come. Valuable spadework has been done at two previous meetings. The first of these was mainly for the purpose of laying Dominion proposals before the provinces and the second was to place the provincial counter-proposals before the Dominion. It is hoped that the present meeting will result in an overall agreement which will enable both the Dominion and provinces to proceed with their plans for reconversion and enlarged social services.

Each province has, of course, its own particular viewpoint and the task of integrating the differences between the provinces and apportioning to each a fair proportion of the revenue the Dominion collects from them is difficult. British Columbia, for instance, is rich and its problem is accentuated because of its attraction to those moving from other provinces. Its welfare services have to take into account, in such matters as pensions, the fact that older people are likely to retire to the coast and that pensions are consequently heavier here than elsewhere. Furthermore, until new industries get under way, workers who have come to the coast during the war and wish to stay here present difficulties of reabsorption into productive lines.

Thus there arises the problem of the re-allocation to the province of a fair proportion of those revenues which the Dominion collects, in proper relation with a re-allocation of the expenditures for which the Dominion becomes responsible.

THE IRAN CURTAIN

THE GOVERNMENT OF IRAN HAS announced that it intends to establish a blind censorship on outgoing news dispatches of foreign correspondents. There is nothing calculated to arouse suspicions more than a blind-censorship of news, however the word "blind" is interpreted. During war military strategy demands strict censorship, but, as far as the world knows, Iran is not at war.

On the other hand there is known to be trouble between the Turks in Azerbaijan and the Kurds. The former have informed the latter that the independent republic of Kurdistan can only exist under control of Azerbaijan and that all boundary disputes must be settled in favor of Azerbaijan. The Kurdish leader, Ghazi Mohammed, promptly retorted that he had been assured by the Russians that the Republic of Kurdistan will exist independently of Azerbaijan. Both the Turkish leader, Jafar Pishevari, and Ghazi Mohammed are under the direct patronage of Baghiroff, communist party leader in the Azerbaijan Soviet Republic. Ghazi Mohammed apparently wants to establish an independent Kurdish republic out of the Kurds of Iran, Iraq and Turkey.

It would seem under these circumstances that the Iranian government would want to give the fullest publicity to the difficulties it may experience from the quarrels between the Kurds and Turks in their efforts to form independent republics under the patronage of Russia and the effect that patronage is likely to have in the coming elections.

But a blind censorship cuts Iran off from the outside world and the "iron curtain" descends once more between the patron, the patronized and the United Nations.

AN IMPRESSIVE REPORT

AN ELEMENT OF SYMBOLISM MAY be found in the picture used by the Canadian National Railways on the cover of the line's 1945 report, tabled this week in the House of Commons. The photograph shows the liner, Queen Elizabeth, berthed at Halifax, whence returning service personnel are being dispatched by train to their homes. It points up the transitional period between the successful completion of one great job, victory in the field over the enemy, and the beginning of another, the readjustment to peacetime progress.

The report itself tells the story. It is a fine chapter in the annals of a great national institution, which turned over to the federal treasury last year's operating surplus of $25,000,000. Statistically the document lists exceptional achievements in handling freight and passengers, despite a decline in the final three months of the year. It foretells, too, potential rising expenditure springing from increased costs and wage rates and a possible decrease in traffic volume below the war year highs.

Of a more human nature is the account the report gives on repatriation, a task entailing transportation for 208,000 personnel.

Reconversion plans are proceeding smoothly, with arrangements under way to build up and recondition rolling stock of various types and to take over the National Railways Munitions Limited plant at Point St. Charles for car repair.

Proud of the war job the company accomplished—a vital factor in the widely-acclaimed contribution Canada made to victory—the president, Mr. R. C. Vaughan, looks forward to an equally important peacetime task. In his words:

"In the Dominion's contribution to the work of building the new world which must arise out of the ruins of the old, the Canadian National system will play a valuable part. Its cooperation, direct and effective, will be available in all the activities leading to a bigger and better Canada, whether it be in the fields of increased industrial and agricultural development or greater exploitation of the country's mineral and other riches."

On the basis of past performances, the Canadian National Railways should face no insurmountable difficulty in redeeming that pledge.

NEGOTIATIONS WITH EGYPT

THE PRESENT NEGOTIATIONS BETWEEN the British and Egyptian governments are to bring up to date the agreements entered into in 1936. Ever since 1922 Egypt has been recognized as a sovereign and independent state, in special relationship to Britain due to the Suez Canal and more especially the Anglo-Egyptian Sudan. After the First World War, when Turkish sovereignty over Egypt was finally eliminated, the joint administration was continued in the Sudan which was garrisoned by Egyptian troops with a sprinkling of British officers and men. In 1924 the Egyptian troops mutinied and were withdrawn and native Arabs and Sudanese replaced them. During the Second World War just concluded the magnificent 8th Army which drove Rommel from Africa, was based in Egypt and up to date has not been evacuated entirely.

Historically the Egyptians have never effectively controlled what is now known as the Anglo-Egyptian Sudan. That territory was colonized by Arabs and inhabited by Nubians. Slaves were its chief export. Now it stretches south to the borders of Uganda and has opened for cultivation a wide and prosperous country entirely dependent on irrigation from the Nile. It has also stopped the slave trade which flourished before the British gained control. The demand by Egyptian Nationalists for the complete withdrawal of British control in this area is probably the chief question on the agenda of negotiations now being conducted by Lord Stansgate as head of the British mission.

In so far as the Suez Canal is concerned, Egypt granted a French company formed by De Lesseps a concession covering that waterway for 99 years from the date of its opening in 1869. In that company the British control seven sixteenths of the shares and have 10 directors on a board of 22. The British have guaranteed the defence of the canal. But until 1968 it is essentially a French company which controls it, in so far as up-keep and revenues are concerned.

The Nationalists in Egypt are not calling for independence, but for control of the Anglo-Egyptian Sudan which, according to British policy, has been regarded as a trusteeship held jointly.

NOTES

People can hide their age, but they aren't spring chickens if they can discuss false teeth without a laugh or shudder.

Blessed are they who can look at 20-year-old snapshots and smile instead of groaning for what might have been.

Excerpt from "The Turbo-Encubator in Industry," by A. D. Little Inc., a chemical and engineering research firm:

"Forty-one manically spaced grouting brushes were arranged to feed into the rotor slip-stream a mixture of high S-value phenylhydrobenzamine and 5 per cent remanitive tetrahydrohexamine. Initially, "n" was measured with the aid of a meta-polar refractive pilfrometer... but up to date nothing has been found to equal the transcendental hopper dadascopie."

Quite! but we wonder if the good old fashioned shamashairbrush would not have a better effect.

Transitional Period

By L. W. MAKOVSKI
BROADLY SPEAKING, what we are witnessing today is the transition of national security from the regional to the broader global sphere. At Chicago on Army Day, President Truman said, "The immediate goal of our foreign policy is to support the United Nations to the utmost." Regional security, as embodied in the Act of Chapultepec, provided for joint action by the American republics against aggression from any source. Later, at San Francisco, when the charter of the United Nations was drawn, it was necessary to find a formula that would recognize the paramount authority of the United Nations in all action for enforcement of peace and security and yet permit independent regional action in case of delay or ineffectiveness. The United States was anxious to retain the inter-American system within the framework of the world organization, but the Act of Chapultepec had been signed not only prior to the conclusion of the Second World War but parallel with the regional security demands of Russia in making "pacts" on her European front.

AT THAT TIME the Dumbarton Oaks agreements were merely the outline of the world organization it was hoped to establish. The regional pacts were a definition of "security" as envisaged by the most powerful nation within a region, which might or might not be expanded according to circumstances. The geographical limitations in Europe were not fixed as in the case of the American pact by the oceans. There was no well established Monroe Doctrine on which Russia could neatly define what she meant by regional security. The recent historical division of the eastern European states was German versus Slav, which had no well defined boundaries.

THE UNITED NATIONS at San Francisco recognized the validity of regional agreements for security against aggression only "until such time as the Organization may, on request of the governments concerned, be charged with the responsibility for preventing further aggression." But it avoided giving recognition to special mutual assistance regional treaties as a part of the new world order under the United Nations charter.

Meanwhile the Pan-Arabian League was looking for support on the regional basis. The whole Middle East was liable to teeter into a Mohammedan League against Christians, unless the tendency toward acerbating political differences with religious prejudices were halted. The background of the Iranian dispute is regional and Iran is a Mohammedan state.

CONSEQUENTLY there are very natural difficulties bound to occur during the transitional period between security sought through blocs and security agreed upon by the United Nations. At the moment regional agreements can be enforced by the nation which, due to its preponderant strength, has the power of enforcement within its own volition. The Security Council of the United Nations has as yet not an organized force to prevent aggression. The Military Staffs are no doubt finding it as difficult to agree on recommendations, as the deputy foreign ministers conference in London is finding it difficult to agree on peace treaties. Neither the peace treaties nor the security police force are transitory.

When once agreement between Britain, the United States and Russia can be obtained on what are to be considered regional arrangements of a permanent or transitory nature, in so far as the United Nations organization is concerned, there will be a much clearer conception of the universal nature and responsibility for peace and security.

PRESIDENT TRUMAN'S speech indicated the line of demarcation in so far as the United States is concerned. But while the United States, with its historical policies and geographical boundaries well defined by the word "Americas," can cross the line between the regional and international spheres with comparatively little change in direction, Russia is by no means so fortunately situated. The American republics crystallized into the Pan-American Union to protect themselves primarily against European aggression. After they became independent of the Spanish and Portuguese Empires and later established themselves as Republics they automatically moved towards a regional understanding with the United States. But the Russian Empire, while it constituted a great land mass, had no easy water communications and was the result of enforced political colonization by exiles among the nomadic tribes of Northern Asia.

FROM this point of view the approach to the United Nations charter as an international over-riding instrument for peace and security depends a good deal on the difference between a highly centralized national administration in Moscow, to the entirely decentralized influence of the United States on a number of independent sovereignties spread over the western hemisphere. The British concept now regards the Commonwealth in much the same light as the United States regards the Pan-American Union. Both believe that these two loosely related organizations can function within the framework of the United Nations without weakening their national structures because both have grown to maturity as independent states with a common understanding of the historical problem. Russia is not so sure unless she can first bring well within her sphere of influence practically the whole of Asia. To do so all countries on her borders are expected to follow Moscow guidance and advice and to alter their political and economic lives not to suit the United Nations but to conform to the pattern designed by the U.S.S.R.

GLOBAL SURVEY

By DEWITT MACKENZIE
Associated Press

Gen. MacArthur, answering Russian criticism of his administration in Japan, has told the four-power Allied Council in so many words that consideration of his past actions isn't its job.

This blunt reply has been topped by Brig.-Gen. Courtney Whitney, Gen. MacArthur's military government officer. Gen. Whitney declared that Russia's questioning of Allied occupation policy, "whether in good faith or not, is a warning that success of the occupation is threatened."

Both these statements from the American camp fit into the picture created recently by charges levelled at the United States by Russian publications and radio.

We hear the Moscow radio quoting the magazine New Times as saying the greatest danger facing the United Nations "arises from the efforts of certain definite circles to make the United Nations an instrument for the domination of some countries over others, to turn it into a weapon of the Anglo-American bloc." The New Times also declares that "promises given during the war to the Philippines are not being kept," and that the formal independence to be given the Philippines is "being joined with complete domination of the country's economy by America."

There is no question about the independence of the Philippines. Neither is there any doubt that the Philippines want, and are entitled to, the protection of the United States.

We must recognize, too, that in the half century since the Philippines became attached to the United States the economies of the two have merged. It's natural the relationship should continue, though this does not mean, and never has meant, that other countries are barred from participation in trade.

The United States has an obligation to see that Japan is reformed, that she is rehabilitated and that she is not an object of aggression from any quarter. I suppose this means a sort of protectorate, and in that sense one may say that both Japan and the Philippines are in the United States "zone of influence."

Telephone to Eire Now Unrestricted

MONTREAL (CP)—Radio-telephone service linking Canada with Eire, previously restricted to government, press and other priority conversations, was resumed today, with no limitations on public use, the Bell Telephone Company of Canada announced. The service is operated jointly through Bell and Canadian Marconi facilities.

R. W. Mayhew, M.P., has written the city council stating that he does not think there is any possibility of the federal government reinstating daylight saving time on a national basis. "The order which provided for daylight saving time," Mr. Mayhew explains, "was made under the War Measures Act and was rescinded effective Sept. 30, 1945. The basis of the order was the saving of power for the production of war materials and this reason no longer applies."

Cecil Solly Says:

WILL YOU please tell me if I am wrong. Two of my neighbors say I am wasting my time and it does no good.

"In late December, we sprinkled lime over the lawn (not heavy) also bone meal (generously) and a commercial lawn food. Then put on a top dressing of peat moss. Now and then I rake it over lightly so it does not pack too fast.

"This is what bothers my neighbors—my husband sod-spikes the lawn in rows about six inches apart after the above applications. Our soil is not clay, but heavy with many rocks. We contend the air loosens the soil and we never notice any open holes after a week or so.

"We did this last year and my lawn was the greenest and heaviest at any time. Also peat moss protects the roots from baking and drying out. When a hot spell came last July, I again sprinkled very lightly with peat moss and while my neighbor's lawns were brown in patches, mine was untouched with a heavy green growth.

MOSS ALL GONE

"All the moss in our lawn has disappeared," and the Johnson grass, too, after hand-digging. "We heartily stick to our sod-spiker and the early application of lime once a year. There is even a gradual decreasing of the dandelions. They just can't stand too much rich top dressing. I would never re-seed my grass now."

"But, Mr. Solly, our neighbors still think the sod-spiker is all bunk. What about it? Would like you to print a column for them to read." Mrs. J. L.

I have printed this letter in full, from a reader because the procedure described in it is complete and absolutely correct. I have been recommending this treatment for lawns for years, but prefer, myself, to do the perforating before the top dressing is applied, rather than afterwards.

PERFORATOR HAS MANY USES

Other good uses for the perforator are for a lawn troubled with lumps and bumps. Even the most carefully prepared lawn is liable to form small "dips" and uneven areas. Do not try to cut out any areas that seem to be raised, but rather fill in the spots around them so that the grade or contour is even. When mowing, or right after the cutting is finished, look over the lawn. If any area of grass is not as good a green as the rest, it may be that a little filling in is necessary to keep the mower wheels at the right height.

This is quite simply done by the use of a little garden soil. First, perforate the area so as to open up the soil and then scatter small amount of soil so that it drops down between the grass plants and into the perforation holes. It may be necessary to do this filling several times before the level is satisfactory but be sure that each soil application is only about a half inch deep.

NEW WEED KILLER

During the past months, much new information from actual tests of this new weed killer has been offered by practical scientists all over the country who have been experimenting with D-C-P (2-4-D). It is sold here as weedicide or weedone.

In this area, numerous tests have been made with unvarying success. It now appears that, with a careful and proper application, all live weeds can be completely eliminated from any lawn. Dandelions, plantain, Jap clover, perennial chickweed and all other bad weeds are eliminated with equal success.

The material is a hormone and acts through the pores of broad-leaved weeds, penetrating to the circulatory systems of the plant and thence to the roots, eventually killing out all growth by preventing the plant from manufacturing its essential growing elements.

There are several points, however, which must be observed carefully if a 100 per cent result is desired.

The material 2-4 dichlorophenoxy-acetic acid is most effective when the temperature is between 60 degrees and 70 degrees, which means that it should be applied during the months of May through September preferably from 1 p.m. to 6 p.m. on a fine bright sunny day.

Care should be taken that no fertilizer be applied to the grass for 10 days before application, especially on bluegrass lawns. The grass should be mowed two or three days before treatment. It should be watered the day before application and not again for four days after treatment. Do not cut the lawn for a week after treatment.

AVOID SHRUBS, PLANTS

as directed on the package and applied with a spray can which will give a fine misty spray. Should there be a wind blowing, care must be taken to avoid the spray's blowing onto any shrubs or plants or they will be killed.

The misty spray may be applied to the leaves of the grass and weeds to drench them. On no account must the spray be allowed to soak into the soil. If it does it will reach the grass roots and is liable to kill them. Provided the application is made carefully, the weeds will gradually wither and die over a period of two weeks. The grass will now show the slightest effect and seems immediately to commence to grow better.

On weedy lawns some re-seeding should be done after weeds are killed. A good method is to loosen up the surface with a rake and spread a mixture of half good grass seed and half garden loam. Tamp down lightly and water well. Buy the best seed available. A few cents more per seed will pay great dividends.

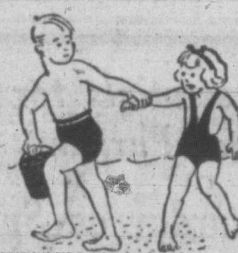

In even textured, weed-free lawns.

Weed seeds in the soil are not affected by the spray and, as soon as they germinate and grow, a further application will be needed to kill any new weeds. One of the ways to avoid spreading new weed seeds in the lawn is always to use a grass catcher. The grass and weed plants which are cut when mowing should be placed in the compost heap.

There the material and the weed seeds will decompose. As soon as the decomposition is completed, the resultant "compost" may be returned to the lawn as an excellent "dressing" along with a good lawn fertilizer to promote the further good growth of the grass plants.

D-C-P (2-4-D) is perfectly harmless to children and animals. It is non-corrosive, non-inflammable and nonresidual. It does not cause any skin irritation, since it is non-poisonous.

Tea inspired a code of manners

Lu Yu, Chinese clown of the 8th Century, wrote Ch'e Ching, a lengthy book, in which he proposed a Code of Tea. His writings established the service of tea as a cultural influence in the Orient.

This tea is a blend inspired by tradition

Not just a cup of tea, a cup of CANTERBURY TEA! Today's tea that speaks of tradition. Tea with flavor, long-lasting, hearty. Tea with bouquet, fresh, keen. Tea that's rich in character.

A cup of Canterbury, hot and warming—there's a happy promise of true tea satisfaction.

Notice the rigid carton—easier to open, handier to use. With sturdy innerlining to help keep moisture out, flavor in. Also in tea bags.

Try This Idea With Your Easter Eggs

The Scot, the Irishman, the bishop, the curate and a number of other quaint characters not in the picture are the work of Boyd MacGill, Victoria artist. Made from egg-shells and cardboard Mr. MacGill first started creating them when he was a wounded soldier in hospital in England in 1917. Recently another soldier, who was in hospital at the same time recalled the queer figures and asked his former hospital friend to make a set as Easter egg novelties.

800 Woodworkers Ready to Strike In Victoria Area

Should negotiations fail between the International Woodworkers of America and the lumbering industry representatives now being carried on in Vancouver, 800 members of Local 1118 of the union in the Victoria area are ready to walk out on strike at a moment's notice, John Wainscott, business representative, said today.

At a meeting of the union Wednesday evening strike committees were set up in all the plants and camps in the Victoria area, preparing for a general stoppage of work in the lumbering industry here. There are approximately 15 mills and camps in this area, and a strike would stop completely the already limited flow of lumber for building purposes. "We would certainly endeavor to keep all lumber from moving from the mills in the event that the industry will not meet our demands," Mr. Wainscott said.

The union is seeking a wage increase of 25 cents an hour, a 40-hour work week, and union security.

Claim Dismissed

Mr. Justice J. O. Wilson dismissed the Supreme Court claim of Mrs. Elizabeth Bryant against G. T. Quincey and G. H. Standbrook for special and general damages.

Mrs. Bryant sued for $108.15 special damages for hospital treatment which she stated was necessary after a fall down a back stairway at the Scott Apartments.

"Meet my neighbour... my rainy-day expert"

"Pretty swanky, eh?" said Henry's neighbour, eyeing the new sunroom. "How come? Did you win some money at the races?"

"Meet my neighbour... my rainy-day expert," said Henry. "As my life insurance man, he helped me finance this new sunroom fifteen years ago."

"Fifteen years ago!" exclaimed the builder, glancing from one to the other.

"Years ago he gave me a new slant on life insurance — 'Provide for the rainy days... then you can enjoy the sunshine.' So that's the way I budget. My life insurance premiums are a first call on my income. That means I don't have to worry about Kitty and the kids. Then I figure current expenses, right down to so much a week for movies and ice cream cones. And then!... whatever I can bank over and above that is velvet. When it mounts up, Kitty gets a new gadget for the kitchen, or we smarten up the house. This new sunroom comes out of our velvet."

There is nothing like life insurance to give a man peace of mind. He can enjoy spending if he is sure that the future of his loved ones is secure. Everyone wants independence and protection for his family... and when that is insured, a man can indulge his whims.

Near you, wherever you are, is a neighbour in the life insurance business. Ask him for advice in planning your future. It is good citizenship to own life insurance.

A message from the Life Insurance Companies in Canada and their agents.

Diana Spencer Beautiful Bride

Col. Victor Spencer escorts his daughter, Diana, up the red-carpeted entrance to St. Andrew's Wesley-United Church.

A thousand guests headed by Lieutenant-Governor and Mrs. W. C. Woodward and representing a cross-section of British Columbia's social, political and business life were present at St. Andrew's Wesley Church, Vancouver, Wednesday afternoon.

The occasion was the marriage of Diana Margaret, fourth daughter of Col. and Mrs. Victor Spencer of "Glen Heather," West Vancouver, and Cmdr. Kenneth Dyer, D.S.C., R.C.N., son of Col. H. R. Dyer, D.S.O., and Mrs. Dyer of Sydney, Australia.

Easter lilies and gardenias decorated the church and the chancel rail where the groom and his brother, Major Roland Dyer of Victoria, stood. The ushers were Cmdr. R. A. Webber, Lt.-Cmdr. M. G. Stirling, Lt.-Cmdr. P. D. Budge, Lt.-Cmdr. H. V. Groose, H.M.C.S. Naden; Lt.-Cmdr. R. P. Welland, R.C.N. College; Victor Spencer, former lieutenant, R.C.N.V.R., and John Fife-Spencer.

Proceeding the bridal party down the aisle were the white surpliced junior girls' choir, directed by C. E. Findlater. Dr. Oswald W. S. McCall performed the wedding ceremony.

PICTURE BRIDE

Entering the church on the arm of her father, the bride was a picture of loveliness in her heavy ivory satin gown, fashioned on classic lines. The bodice was graced with a pearl-encrusted streamer that swept out into a long train. Pearls edged the long-sleeved bodice and outlined the rose-patterned coronet from which fell the veil of Carickmacross lace. Held by two butterfly orchids at the temples, it floated over a mist of tulle veiling which reached the train. Her bouquet was a cascade of gardenias.

Mrs. Kenneth Newbury as her sister's matron of honor and Lieut. (O.T.) Trudean Spencer as her sister's maid of honor were dressed in gold tulle over taffeta with Swiss mohair hats in the same tone, the brims heavy with blue-toned roses.

A quintette of bridesmaids, Miss Barbara Ellen Spencer, Miss Ann Spencer, also sisters of the bride, Mrs. Glen McDonald, Miss Brenda Turner of Ottawa and Miss Suzanne Lewis were in blue taffeta identically styled, with crownless cloche model hats trimmed with blue and gold roses. Their cascade bouquets were of carnations to complement the color scheme.

A reception was held at H.M.C.S. Discovery, ship-shaped and decorated to receive the bridal party and the many guests. A red carpet had been added to the quarter-deck and the wreath of laurel leaves and white flowers, signifying a wedding party aboard, hung from the yardarm. Signal flags were strung everywhere in tribute to the bride, a former member of the Women's Royal Canadian Naval Service.

ORCHESTRA ATTENDED

An orchestra partially hidden behind a bank of varicolored hydrangeas played a musical obbligato and at the opposite end of the deck, canopied with blue signal flags, the four-tier wedding cake was given a flood-lit place of honor on a dias backed with a hedge of real roses, box shrubs and forsythia trees in bloom.

Late in the afternoon the young couple took leave of their guests. As she left, the bride wore a canary yellow wool suit with tweed effect of pale biscuit repeated in the topcoat, over which she wore a silver beaver cape. Her Tuscan straw cloche was rust trimmed in brown grosgrain with accessories of lizard skin and a corsage bouquet of bronze baby orchids.

Cmdr. and Mrs. Dyer will leave later in the month for Halifax.

Ivory Satin Gown Worn By Gloria Ball

Gloria Viola, only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wilfred C. Ball, 326 Obed Avenue, was united in marriage Wednesday evening at the Church of St. Martin's-in-the-Field, to Robert Francis Tuson, eldest son of Mrs. Frank Tuson, 370 Walter Avenue, and the late Mr. Tuson. Canon A. E. Green-hall read the service.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride was gown in ivory slipper satin fashioned on princess lines with lace yoke, panel front and lily-point sleeves. A Mary Stuart headress held her veil and she carried a bouquet of red roses and lily of the valley.

Mrs. Gordon Ball was matron of honor and wore a frock of primrose yellow chiffon over taffeta. Her large picture hat was of matching shade and she carried a bouquet of white carnations and pink sweet peas. Misses Dorothy and Jean Cawsey wore identical frocks of rose pink moire taffeta with floral halo headresses. Their bouquets were composed of pink snapdragons and White Lady narcissi.

Douglas Crydenman was groomsmen and ushering were Kenneth Banks and Gordon Pelow. Later a reception was held in the parish hall, where mothers of the couple received the guests.

Taking leave of the guests for a honeymoon on the mainland, the bride wore a blue-grey dress-maker suit, black hat, black plastic accessories and a corsage bouquet of red roses and lily of the valley.

Flies From London to Victoria Personals

Twenty-five years filled with rich experiences of her life in England, was climaxed last week when Mrs. Kathleen Warner arrived in Victoria, having traveled all the way by air. She flew across the Atlantic to Chicago in a "Skymaster," newest plane of American Air Lines, from there to Winnipeg and so to Victoria, to visit her father, John O'Grady, 2559 Cranmore Road.

Wife of Dr. E. Lloyd Warner of London, Mrs. Warner has had a varied life. She is a spiritualist medium, having charge of a church in Surrey, where marriages, christenings and burials are part of her daily tasks.

During the first two years of the war, Mrs. Warner ran an ambulance station, retiring in 1941 to become one of London's official hostesses for overseas men. Their son, FO. Mike Warner, lost his life in 1942 serving with the R.C.A.F., and since then Mrs. Warner has been the "mother" of the Canadian Air Force stationed in London. Since her arrival in Canada, she has already met several R.C.A.F. men of former London days.

Mrs. Warner's former Canadian home was in Winnipeg 25 years ago, and this is her first visit to Victoria, which she calls "paradise."

Of course, in the end some woman who is a good husband-hunter nearly always does catch the roamer and land him again in the nursery, but it isn't what he bargained for.

So be of good cheer about keeping your children. No glamour girl is going to try to take them away from you. It is only an own mother to whom they seem beautiful and desirable.

1. "Rocket Cruise to the Moon." "Spend Your Vacation on Mars" . . . Some day these may be advertisements like those. For radar researchers now are turning their attention to interplanetary rocket flight. No doubt the first attempt will be an effort to reach the moon. As soon as radar contact was made with the moon from Belmar, N.J., on Jan. 10, 1946, rocket enthusiasts began to discuss the possibility of sending a rocket to the moon. Such a rocket would have to leave the earth with a speed greater than 11 miles a second to escape the earth's gravitational pull. Perhaps it will use atomic power.

2. The flight of such a rocket would be controlled by radar while astronomers follow its path on the oscillograph tube on the radar equipment. Obviously it would not be possible to see the rocket in a telescope. Space is full of meteors which do not reflect enough sunlight to be visible. Obviously, also, no one would travel in that first rocket for many reasons, including the danger of collision with one of these meteors. Whether passengers might eventually ride in a rocket would depend upon the result of many trials.

3. It might be decided to let moon. Since this would destroy the first rocket crash into the telescope, and Mt. Wilson with its 100-inch telescope—the explosion of the rocket would be photographed. It must be remembered that such telescopes give a view of the moon equivalent to what would be obtained with the unaided eye if the moon were less than 50 miles away. The long shadows cast by the bomb explosion would light up mountain peaks and craters from new angles and perhaps give astronomers information of the utmost value about their structure.

Lambs For Easter Show at Beacon Hill

Several ewes with their lambs will become inhabitants of Beacon Hill Park to make an Easter display for the children. W. H. Warren, parks superintendent, said today.

The ewes and lambs will be penned near the bear cage and kept at Beacon Hill only over the Easter week-end.

He anticipated that wallflowers would be at their peak bloom for Easter, being one of the best showings in the past 10 years. Daffodils will still make a gay showing although they are beginning to fade now.

HUBERT A. WALLACE

NORMAN A. YARROW

"We have had the highest regard in Vancouver for the work of Yarrow's personnel, and we don't propose to make any change in it," Hubert A. Wallace, vice-president and general manager of Yarrow's Ltd., said after an inspection of the shipyards his company, Burrard Drydock Co. Ltd., has bought from Norman A. Yarrow.

Mr. Wallace said it was hoped to get French and Chinese contracts for the Esquimalt plant. He said he saw no reason why the Burrard Drydock Co. yards in Vancouver and the Yarrow yards could not work in close co-operation with good results.

Pair Get 5 Years For Taxi Hold-up In Speedy Justice

Roger L. Roy and Frank Smith each was sentenced to five years in the penitentiary by Magistrate H. C. Hall Wednesday afternoon in Saanich Police Court for the robbery with violence of Kenneth Cushman, Island Taxi Co. driver Tuesday night.

Both pleaded guilty. Cushman was brought to court from St. Joseph's Hospital to testify.

As the result of the assault he suffered large bumps at the back of his head, bruises on the chin, black left eye and cuts inside his mouth.

He told the court that while driving the two young sailors to Patricia Bay one asked him to stop and when he did so he was slugged from behind and pulled into the back seat of the cab.

When he tried to fight back they knocked him unconscious with a stick. They took between $50 and $55 from his wallet which they gave to Chief G. Stancomb of Esquimalt when they were arrested.

In Cushman's wallet today he found a note reading: "Sorry pal. We had to do it. You will get it back."

Prosecutor Claude L. Harrison asked that the youths be dealt with severely pointing out the prevalence in the province in the last few years of crimes of this kind. He said the maximum penalty was life imprisonment with lashes.

Before sentence was imposed, Smith, speaking for both, said they had felt miserable after they had committed the offence, but did not have the nerve to give themselves up.

Newsprint Ceiling In Canada Lifted

OTTAWA (CP)—The Prices Board announced Wednesday night suspension of the basic price ceiling of $54 a ton on newsprint sold in Canada, subject to a "clear understanding" that Canadian prices will not rise beyond "historic differentials" below United States prices.

The announcement said it was expected the price now would advance enough to reflect two increases totalling $9 a ton granted in the United States in March, 1945, and January, 1946. This would bring the Canadian price to $63 a ton, compared with $67 in the United States.

PRIZE-WINNING NOVEL

"Before the Sun Goes Down," by Elizabeth Metzger Howard (Ryerson Press).

THE LONG array of characters which accompany most historical novels are found again in "Before the Sun Goes Down," prize-winning entry in the Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer and Doubleday contests.

Despite the large number of personalities, Willowspring, Pennsylvania, in the year 1880, is a vivid place to the reader. The town's people, its intolerance and aspirations are seen through the eyes of Dr. Dan Field.

The young doctor also sees the old patterns of life breaking down as railways spread, communications change and Edison discovers electric light.

One of the central characters is Priscilla Albright, wife of Willowspring's leading citizen. The doctor is in love with her.

The novel's children are sympathetically drawn by the author and some of them are unforgettable.

SCIENCE has proved there are certain food elements everyone needs for health. If there aren't enough of them in a child's food, serious things can happen—such as stunted growth, soft bones, poor teeth, faulty nerves, loss of appetite, defective eyesight.

Ovaltine supplements the diet with elements frequently deficient in ordinary foods. Three servings of Ovaltine furnish a significant portion of a child's daily requirements of Vitamins A, B, D, Riboflavin (G) and Niacin and Minerals Calcium, Phosphorus and Iron.

In addition it provides the basic food substances—complete proteins to build muscle, nerve and body cells—high-energy foods for vitality and endurance. It thus acts as an insurance against food deficiencies that retard normal growth.

So if your child eats poorly, is thin, underpar, perhaps nervous, why not try delicious Ovaltine for normal growth and better appetite.

Networkers Resume Jobs On B.C. Coast

VANCOUVER (CP)—The 30-day-old work stoppage for British Columbia networkers ended Wednesday night when arrangements "mutually satisfactory" were reached with the Regional War Labor Board, union officials announced.

Negotiations have resulted in the establishment for the first time of an eight-hour-day for the networkers, with time and a quarter for hourly-paid workers. Alex Gordon, business agent for the United Fishermen and Allied Workers' Union, said wage increases ranging from $1 to $40 a month were also agreed on.

The networkers went on holiday a month ago, refusing to make nets for the spring fishing season until agreements granting their demands and specifically defining their contract had been signed.

Play Continues In City Chess Meet

Play continues in the several months-long City Chess Club's annual tournament, with C. D. Moore adding to his lead in A Division and J. H. Lacy retaining his premier berth in B Division.

Lacy's leadership margin was whittled down a bit this week when he was defeated by the second-place J. Marshall, who also won from G. Drew. He is one and a half points behind Lacy. One point behind him is G. A. Laird. N. R. Stewart is in second place in A Division and F. W. Plant is in the third berth.

Results of other recent matches were:

Moore defeated F. Pantalone, P. Wyllie defeated Stewart, P. Siroshol, Pantalone defeated Wyllie, B. Parry defeated A. H. Shuard, Siroshol defeated Shuard, S. Turner defeated Parry, and O. ### LAWN BOWLING

The Lake Hill Lawn Bowling Club will hold its first game of the season Good Friday afternoon at 2, weather permitting.

Angling

By CAP THORSEN

Most ardent hope in the angling ranks today is a bright-and-sunny Easter holiday week-end to allow them to follow their favorite sport with the rod in the saltchuck, rivers and lakes.

That Saanich Inlet waters contain a good supply of fresh-run spring salmon was proven last week-end, especially on Sunday. Some boats reeled in one or two heavies and others bagged quantity catches that were in the somewhat spectacular category.

Yesterday at both Brentwood and Goldstream, professional boatmen reported Tuesday and Wednesday catches slim, but there is always the good chance they will be taking again at times over the lengthy holiday period.

GETS FIVE BIG ONES

Jan A. May of "Dunmore," Mount Newton, gets the nod as the most successful fisherman in the inlet last Sunday. In four hours in the afternoon he reeled in a basket of five heavies and three grise, the former weighing 26, 21½, 19, 18 and 16 pounds and all caught in the waters reaching down to Goldstream. Deephole was especially good.

He was using a 5½ Wonder spoon 50-50, 450 feet of line with a plunger. A general survey showed that those who were fishing deep got the best luck with but a few exceptions, and the Wonder spoons appear to have been the best luck lures, 5½ or 6 varieties.

Most of the Sunday catches were taken beyond Whittaker's Point in the waters reaching to the stream. Bob Cross and his partner, Saul, each took out 23½-pounders and in addition landed three jacks and two grise. The team of Walter Thickett and Bert Harrison scored a 27-pound specimen and a smaller one. Fred Willey bagged spring grise weighing 18½ and nine pounds. Red Nicol and a Chinese friend returned to their mooring place with a total of nine salmon, ranging from 14 pounds and down.

Roy Smith, also on the Sabbath, reeled in one over 20 pounds, others weighing 10, eight and four pounds.

RICKINSONS BAG 19 GRILSE

Seeking grise only, the brother combination of Tommy and Stan Rickinson registered a catch of 19 Sunday morning, fishing short line and light. They were out from daybreak to noon and "we got all of them on abalone spoons and pop gear," said Tommy. Mrs. H. A. Patterson netted a party of six and Fred Allen and party four. After the heavier weighing ones on Monday, Lt.-Cmdr. Ivan Day and son, Bobby, hooked and landed two salmon, biggest 10 pounds.

TROUT FISHING SCENE

In the freshwater picture trout anglers will be going to various spots—Cowichan River and lake, Shawinigan, Kemp, Wolfe and Douglas-Lakes.

Douglas, in the Cobble Hill area, was the spot where a trio of fly fishermen did well last Sunday, but there were no reports from the other freshwater localities to testify, as to their fish-catching productiveness.

At Douglas, Stan Gibbons reeled in four trout, J. P. Burbridge took out six and E. McMartin two.

Women Bowlers Hold Wind-up Banquet

Cups and prizes won during the season by the Ladies' Auxiliary of the F.O.E. Aerie No. 12 were presented at a banquet attended by 40 Wednesday night in Terry's dining-room. Mrs. Thelma Simmons, president, was in the chair and made the presentation.

Prizes were presented as follows: League honors with 63 wins to team five, composed of Mrs. Lillian Jones, captain; Mrs. Iris Murrant, Mrs. Margaret Wyber, Mrs. Muriel Lewis, Mrs. Rose Woloski and Mrs. Molly Brown; Mrs. L. Jones, highest average mark with 161, also high single game honors with a score of 265; Mrs. L. Murrant, highest three-game score of 634; Mrs. Amy Sauter, "booby prize" winner with an average 76. There were other presentations to Mrs. Etta Griffin, Mrs. Marion Harrison, Mrs. Charlotte Goodenough, Mrs. Thelma Simmons, Mrs. Marjorie Parker and Mrs. Rose Beckerley.

Contributing to the entertainment were Mrs. Mickey Croft, Mrs. Kay Bus, Mrs. Agnes McConaghy, and Mrs. Millicent Steele. Mrs. Parker was general convener.

Passion Flower Easter Symbol

Because early Spanish missionaries to South America had trouble making the natives understand the lesson of Holy Writ, the Passion Flower, a specimen of which is shown above, became a religious symbol, particularly associated with Easter and has remained so for over 400 years. The Holy Fathers saw in the flower the symbolic story of the Crucifixion. Its majestic purple was the color always associated with the Passion of Christ. The anthers symbolized the Wounds, the styles the Nails, and the stigma the Hammer. Endowing these was the blue Crown of Thorns. There always were 10 petals—never 11 or nine—which to the missionaries represented the Apostles, significantly omitting Judas, who betrayed Christ, and Peter who denied Him. Several Victoria gardeners have successfully cultivated Passion Flower plants which require a mild climate and great care.

Parks Superintendent Advocates Permanent Recreation Program

There is a definite need for a more permanent recreational program in Victoria and room for a full-time recreational director for the Greater Victoria area, H. W. Warren, parks superintendent, stated in his annual report to the city council.

Many small cities and communities in B.C., because of aid received from the provincial government, have a more comprehensive recreational program than in Victoria, he said. "The need for further development of a civic recreational program is self-evident," the report states. "It would have both moral and financial assistance from provincial and federal agencies."

During 1945 approximately $4,000 was spent on additional playground apparatus, and 12 concrete picnic tables and 107 concrete park benches, and a number of park swings were put up. Upkeep of equipment was maintained he reported, park benches and swings were painted but lack of labor prevented the painting of buildings.

More than 1,000 pounds of daffodil bulbs were naturalized in Beacon Hill Park and a great deal of work was done to remove the park's "ragged appearance."

Shortage of labor in every branch of park work during the year slowed up work and prevented some of the appropriations being spent.

In the boulevard department, considerable progress has been made in the removal of forest type boulevard trees, but Mr. Warren adds, "replacement by smaller ornamental trees has not kept pace with their removal, due to the difficulty of obtaining trained help during the war to grow young trees."

In the pound department he stated 448 dogs were impounded, 305 destroyed, 32 sold, 111 deemed. There were 376 cats destroyed.

U.S. Says Canada Could Send More Cereals to Needy Nations

WASHINGTON (AP)—A British-Canadian-U.S. deadlock over ways to ease the world food crisis today delayed an order which will put the United States on a diet of less bread and flour.

Representatives of the three countries met Wednesday in another of a long series of meetings of the Combined Food Board. But they failed again to agree on what each should do in the way of contributing wheat and flour to famine-stricken areas.

Agriculture Secretary Anderson has ready an order to cut supplies of flour in the U.S. 25 per cent, but he is withholding his signature pending further efforts of the three countries to agree on joint relief efforts.

EYES ON RESERVES

The U.S. government is taking the position that the major burden is falling on the United States and that Canada and Britain could contribute more than they have offered.

It is the official view here that both Britain and Canada could cut deeper into their reserves and reduce their own consumption further.

Meanwhile, President Truman's famine emergency committee called on the government to adopt still more rigid food conservation measures.

The international disagreement over food arises from the fact that while Britain does not hold grain stocks anywhere near her normal six months' reserve, U.S. officials believe Britain still could cut her present holdings.

Britain on the other hand, told the three-power food board that she still stands on her offer to ration bread if the U.S. would do likewise. United States officials have said it would be impossible to get rationing started in time to help out during the present pre-harvest emergency.

WANT IT REPLACED

Britain did offer to divert from present stocks and from shipments now afloat 200,000 tons of bread cereals to famine areas,

SHIP ALL POSSIBLE

WINNIPEG (CP)—Canadian supplies of grain will be exported to the limit to aid in overcoming the European food crisis, Trade Minister MacKinnon said here today.

Mr. MacKinnon, who was en route to Edmonton, explained Canada's position during a brief train-stop interview, and said there is only a balance of 67,000 bushels of wheat to be exported as wheat or flour during the final months of the present crop year, ending July 1, 1946.

The exportable surplus for the crop year was estimated at 340,000 bushels, and from Aug. 1, 1945, to April 12, 1946, exports totaled 273,000 bushels. Mr. MacKinnon estimated the total carry-over, farm and commercial, at the end of the crop year would not likely exceed 60,000 bushels. The lowest in years. Last year the carry-over was 258,000 bushels and on July 31, 1944, the carry-over was 355,000 bushels.

Sailors Best Husbands, Says Admiral Brodeur

WINNIPEG (CP)—Sailors make much better husbands than either soldiers or airmen, according to Rear-Admiral V. G. Brodeur.

He said while returning from Ottawa to his Pacific coast command that "sailors are away so much that their wives are only too glad to welcome them home." He said the divorce rate in the navy was only a fraction of that in any of the other armed forces.

Three of the Many Reasons

THERE ARE a lot of good reasons why Carnation is so widely recommended for bottle-fed babies. Here are just three of the very important ones... digestibility, fine food values, and safety.

Easier digestibility because of heat-treatment and homogenization; all the fine food value of good, pasteurized milk plus an extra supply of "sunshine" vitamin D; and the complete safety of sterilization.

No matter where you buy Carnation Milk, no matter how long you keep it in the unopened can, even without refrigeration... it is always the same, always one of the finest foods for bottle-fed babies (and their brothers and sisters and parents, too).

Wenatchee Ball Club Has Pennant Fever

WENATCHEE, Wash. (AP)—Wenatchee baseball fans, still smarting from the cellar performance of the 1940-41 Wenatchee Chiefs, are showing signs of pennant fever this spring for the first time since the 1939 entry won the Western International League championship.

Down to the last man it will be a brand new team—both on the field and in the front office.

After the poor 1941 showing that cost Wenatchee its W.I. franchise, the Chiefs return to the circuit on a franchise owned by Sacramento of the Pacific Coast League. A former local newspaperman, Joe Brownlow, who led the fight for Wenatchee's reinstatement, is business manager.

His team manager is Buddy Ryan, a veteran of 25 years in the Coast League and manager of the Sacramento Solons from 1926 through 1934. Ryan, who has developed more than $300,000 worth of baseball ivory, was picked by Sacramento to manage this farm club because of his success with young players.

And Ryan already has started. Working with Solon manager Earl Shively, Ryan opened a Wenatchee camp in Sacramento along with the Coast League club in February and so got a month's jump on other teams in conditioning and training. They've beaten the Fairchild Army Air Base and three washed Spokane in exhibitions.

TEAM ROSTER
Although the full list of players either owned by or on option to the Chiefs is still incomplete, the roster now includes five pitchers, a catcher, two outfielders, and four infielders. The players and their last teams are:

Pitchers—Paul Hartwig, semi-pro; Lou Penrose, Sacramento in '45; John Fitzgerald, St. Mary's College; Dave Christenson, Ogden in Pioneer League, and Leslie Logg of Seattle, cousin of the

Fighters Receive Half of Purses

TORONTO (CP)—Jimmy Hatcher, Sarasota, Fla., and Willie Joyce, Gary, Ind., principals in the main bout at Maple Leaf Gardens Tuesday night, which was stopped in the sixth round by Referee Billy Burke and declared "no contest" will receive only 50 per cent of their purses. It was announced today. The commission has retained the other half of their take pending further investigation.

former U. of Washington grid star, Elmer. Catcher—Ed Fitzgerald, St. Mary's.

Outfielders—Eddie Barr, Pocatello in 1942; Mel Wasley, four years in the Pioneer.

Infielders—Clyde Maskell, played some for Sacramento last year; Glen Stetter; Curt Schmidt, with Sacramento last year; Dick Adams, Fresno in the California State League.

The third outfielder is a toss-up with a newcomer to pro ball, Ernie Bertolotti, showing up so well in California that Ryan expects to bring him north. If not, Ted Greenhalgh, who hit .285 with Sacramento last year, is expected to complete the garden.

Another catcher, Nick Pesut, has been hitting well and may come with the team.

Wenatchee's main need is a southpaw pitcher to supplement Christenson, lone wronghand on the staff now. Brownlow lists these right-handers as probabilities: Roe Vivalda, who pitched four innings of shutout ball in Spokane exhibition; Hugh Orphan, a submariner; Gene Babbitt, Manuel Vargas and Eddie Green, the last two with Pocatello in 1942.

All Set For Championship Show

Washed and brushed the above group of dogs, owned by Mr. and Mrs. H. W. Melish of Victoria are just waiting to go before Judge Anton Korbel of Belmont, Calif., in the all-breed championship show of the Victoria City Kennel Club to be held at the Bay St. Armories Saturday. Judging will commence at 10 and continue all day with a cocker spaniel specialty show an added attraction. Nearly 300 dogs have been entered. Dogs seen in the picture include: Ch. Heatherbelle Emperor and Charlotta of Le-Tasyl, bull mastiffs; Tayside Lord Dundee, Scottie; Heather of The Orchard, West Highland White, and Heatherbelle Lady Pamela, Scottie.

Toronto Mikes Grab Game Lead In Junior Hockey

TORONTO (CP)—A smooth-working Irish machine that made almost every break count, St. Michael's College of Toronto bashed Winnipeg Monarchs 7 to 3 last night and emerged as distinct favorites to win the Memorial Cup and the Canadian junior hockey championship for the second year in a row.

The victory gave the Saints a lead of 2 to 1 in games in the best-of-seven final against the western champions, and the betting was around 8 to 5 that St. Mikes would extend their winning streak in the fourth game Saturday night.

St. Michael's, fresh from a 5 to 3 triumph Monday that balanced Monarchs' surprise 3 to 2 win in the opening game last Saturday, showed too much polish around the nets last night. That just about sums up the difference.

The big western Canada champions had 38 shots on goal against 26 by the Saints, but it was the polish and aggressiveness of the easterners that paid off last night.

JACK VS. GRECO
NEW YORK (AP)—Beau Jack, former lightweight champion from Augusta, Ga., and Johnny Greco of Montreal, signed contracts Wednesday for a 10-round welterweight bout at Madison Square Garden, May 31, promoter Mike Jacobs announced.

Dominoes in Dazzling Performance To Whip Saskatoon Toilers 82-52

By ART CHAPMAN
SASKATOON—After chalking up their fourth straight victory since hitting the prairie provinces, an 82 to 52 victory over Saskatoon Toilers last night, Victoria Dominoes were today en route to Winnipeg for the western Canada senior men's basketball final. It will be a best two out of three affair, opening at the Manitoba capital Friday evening, with the St. Andrews club providing the opposition.

Dominoes literally steamrolled over Saskatoon as they lifted the two-game total point series 182 to 97. Much credit must be paid to the Toilers for the manner in which they fought to the bitter end. Despite the fact they were hopelessly outclassed, Saskatchewan champions never quit trying.

Rainiers Drop First Home Game
A 10th inning squeeze play and seven innings of shutout pitching by the Angels' top hurler has narrowed the difference between Pacific Coast Baseball League leading San Francisco and Los Angeles to two games.

The Angels moved up on the Seals last night with a double-header win over Sacramento by 6 to 5 and 7 to 0 scores as the Seals were being nosed out by the Oakland A's, 4 to 3.

In other league tilts, Hollywood took 14 innings to push last year's champions, the Portland Beavers, deeper into the cellar with a 5 to 4 win while San Diego was edging out the Seattle Rainiers, 3 to 2.

Thirteen thousand fans turned out to watch the Seattle Rainiers make their home field debut. They saw the San Diego Padres turn in some first rate base running to win, though they collected only five safeties off Seattle's Joe Demoran.

Chuck Ekenmann allowed the Rainiers six hits but tightened effectively in the pinches. He struck out 10 men.

ing, Jack Clarke was their spark-plug last night as he scored 21 points.

Dominoes' attack centred around lanky Hank Rowe with the big forward hitting the hoop for 26 points. Art Chapman, veteran centre of the British Columbia club, gave a brilliant exhibition of fast scoring by registering 11 points in the first four minutes of play.

During the 40 minutes Dominoes elected to give the Saskatoon fans an exhibition of smart basketball. The coast stars amazed their audience at times with a performance of ball handling, dribbling and shooting never before equaled here. Many times the Dominoes worked the ball in under the basket for a layup shot only to bring it back out again.

"Jumping Jack" Rookie Wright looked particularly good on defence as he intercepted passes, and one of the most potent at long range sniping.

All the boys are in fine spirits and good health, and have asked me to tell the home folks they will be in there pitching all the time against Winnipeg.

Major Baseball Round-up
Only 4 Clubs Unbeaten
Chicago Cubs, who last year equalled a major league standard by winning Cincinnati Reds 21 times in 22 meetings, are off to a good start today in an attempt to duplicate the performance this year against Bill McKeechie's weary Redlegs.

Yesterday's 11 to 7 triumph was Chicago's second straight decision over the Rhinelanders.

Reds enjoyed a 7 to 6 advantage after eight stanzas yesterday, but the Cubs came up with a five-run spurge in their last turn at bat.

A flimsy crowd of 4,529, part of the day's total of 74,207, witnessed the Cubs' triumph which placed them in an early season tie for first with New York Giants. Quite a contrast to Tuesday's opening day attendance of 236,730.

The largest turnout of the day, 14,330, watched the hometown Detroit Tigers go down to defeat, also in the ninth inning, when St. Louis Browns counted twice on a pair of hits, two walks and Vern Stephens' fly to defeat the Bengals, 7 to 6.

Giants kept pace with the Cubs by defeating Philadelphia 5 to 2 for their second straight over the Phillies. Bob Joyce gained his first National League victory in limiting the Phils to seven blows while the Polo Grounders took advantage of nine walks given up by southpaw Frank Hoerst to score all their runs.

Cleveland and Boston Red Sox were the only other teams to keep their 1946 slates clean. Allie Reynolds hurled a five-hitter against Chicago White Sox to help Cleveland win 7 to 1. Ken Keltner paced the Tribe attack with a pair of homers and a double which drove in four runs.

The Red Sox staged a slugging bee against five Washington throwers which netted them 15 hits and a 13 to 6 decision over the Senators. Ted Williams and Don DiMaggio led the Sox attack, Williams enjoying a perfect day with two doubles, a single and three walks, while Joe DiMaggio's younger brother clouted a three-run homer and tallied four times. Boston's jubilation was softened by the failure of Dave (Boo) Ferriss, its 21-game winner, to last four innings. The 24-year-old sophomore was blasted for eight hits and five runs in 5 2/3 innings.

Philadelphia Athletics evened their series with New York Yankees when they hopped on rookie Randy Gumpert, a former Mackman, for five runs in the seventh inning to beat the Bronx bombers 7 to 1 before 11,091.

Southpaw Max Lanier celebrated his return to the big leagues by blanking Pittsburgh with seven scattered singles as St. Louis Cardinals defeated the Pittsburgh Pirates 6 to 0.

Rookie Hank Behrman, a 24-year-old right-hander purchased from Montreal last Monday, turned back Boston Braves with nine scattered hits as Brooklyn evened the opening series with a 4 to 2 victory.

They include Bill Youlton, Joe Robbins, Bill McColl, George Payne, Ken Jones and McCormack. In addition the Legion have secured the services of goalie Bobby Moss, former custodian for Victoria United in the Coast League. ## Money has had many disguises Money is as old as the world and has taken many forms. They used tenpenny nails as currency in Scotland, in 1776; and rum represented money in Australia, previous to 1850. Even later, 1865, turnips were similarly used in Philadelphia.

Whatever form money takes, it is a necessity. And how much you have determines to a large extent how pleasant your life will be. That's why planned saving, begun at an early age, means so much to Canadians, allowing them freedom of action, freedom from financial worries.

Municipalities, the Fraser Valley Municipal Association, and the Municipal Employees' Association will present briefs.

A date to hear the provincial government's submission will be set later in the summer.

This morning Mr. Goldenberg spent almost two hours at the City Hall in consultation with D. A. Macdonald, city controller, and A. J. Patton, city solicitor, obtaining information about the city's finances needed to supplement the city brief.

Municipalities Will Probably Follow On Daylight Saving

When the city adopts daylight saving municipalities will probably follow suit according to opinions gathered today from Oak Bay, Saanich and Esquimalt councillors although Saanich has previously voted 6 to 1 against the change.

Reeve A. G. Lambrick today said: "We must have the same time system as the city. It would be impossible if we did not. It's bad enough not having all cities on the same schedule."

Councillor Robert Noble, Ward 2, commented: "I'm sure we will be compelled to adopt daylight saving."

Councillor J. Len. Hobbs, Ward 3, felt that daylight saving should be province-wide at least and said: "We will have to be the same as the city. It would be ridiculous to have the two on different times."

Councillor W. C. Kersey, Ward 6, said he would support daylight saving if it was on a Dominion-wide or provincial-wide basis. "Otherwise I am not in favor of a change," he said.

Councillors George Austin, Ward 4; Thomas Alexander, Ward 1; John Oliver, Ward 5, and J. W. Casey, Ward 7, were not available for comment.

A letter was received from the City of Victoria by W. K. Hardy,

Esquimalt municipal clerk, this morning requesting the municipality to adopt daylight saving. As the next meeting of the council is not until April 29, a special meeting will have to be called if council is to act in time to make the change at the same time.

"I think daylight saving is a very good thing for Esquimalt and we are too close to Victoria to do otherwise," said Councillor A. C. Wurtele.

Councillor J. A. Ellis said that he would support the municipality adopting daylight saving as in Victoria. Councillor J. P. A. Christensen, also favored the move.

"I am in favor of following Victoria's lead, and while I can speak only for myself, I feel daylight saving will receive general approval here," said Councillor E. J. Read.

General opinion of Oak Bay councillors was in favor of daylight saving time on a national scale, but not in this area only. It was claimed at the municipal hall that while the Lieutenant-Governor-in-Council could proclaim daylight saving time for the whole province, and while Victoria could proclaim daylight saving time under a private provincial act, Oak Bay had no power to do so for itself.

Province Taking No Action On Daylight Saving

The provincial government has decided to take no action in the matter of proclaiming daylight saving time on a province-wide basis, Provincial Secretary George Pearson informed the city council today.

In his letter Mr. Pearson said "I am now instructed to advise you that there seems to be such a difference of opinion between the various communities in the province as to the desirability of daylight saving that the executive council has decided not to take any action in the matter."

Approve Plans For Gordon Head Airport

The Greater Victoria airport committee Wednesday night approved the contour plans prepared by the engineer's department showing runways and flightways of the proposed Gordon Head airport, Ald. B. J. Gadsden, chairman of the committee, said today.

Arrangements are being made to have photographs made of the plans which will be given to the municipal councils in the area, and members of the airport committee, with the suggestion that the councils approve the proposal in principle.

The runways proposed are two of 3,000 feet running northeast to southeast, northwest to southeast, and one of 3,100 feet running east and west. The plan also shows how an extra 2,000 feet could be placed at the ends of the present runways to transform the airport from Class II type to Class I, if this is desired in the future.

Municipal engineers were asked to show necessary zoning in the surrounding area needed to protect flightways.

It was also decided to get in touch with W. S. Lawson, inspector of Western Airways, asking if it would be necessary to purchase property 1,100 feet wide for extensions to provide flightways, or if only the 500-foot runways will be needed, and the flightways provided by strict zoning regulations.

The city council will be asked to apply to the Hudson's Bay Company for extension of the right of first refusal in respect to the company-owned property.

H. Gordon Hughes To Important Post

Since 1941 Mr. Hughes has served with the Royal Canadian Engineers. He recently returned to Canada from Holland to assist in the planning of postwar army requirements. He was discharged with the rank of major.

Hot Metal Blast Kills 1, Injures 7

SEATTLE (AP) — John R. Tondervold, crane operator, died Wednesday night of burns received when tons of molten metal exploded at the Northwest Steel Rolling Mills Inc., injuring seven other men, two seriously. Harry L. Goetz, assistant engineer at the plant, said the crew was attempting to pour a ladleful of molten steel back into a furnace for reheating and some of the metal apparently poured into a cooling trough full of water.

Flying bits of white-hot steel started a score of small fires in the plant. Several men close to the explosion were treated for minor burns and men as far away as 100 feet were struck by pieces of steel. Norman Smith and Michael Blakney, the men seriously hurt, were members of the ladle crew.

Deny Lord Bennett Victim of Diabetes

DORKING, Surrey, Eng. (CP) — A spokesman for Viscount Bennett, former prime minister of Canada, said today the Canadian-born peer had recovered fully from a cold which caused an indisposition at Christmas and was attending a meeting of the Canadian Red Cross in London, "as vigorous as ever."

Asked if the report was correct that Lord Bennett was suffering from diabetes, the spokesman laughed and said: "Some reporter rang him up a few weeks ago and he made some general remark about not being as well as he used to be. Out of that grew all this silly nonsense."

Lord Bennett will be 76 in July.

Malcolm MacDonald Pays Y.M.C.A. Tribute

A special tribute to the Canadian Y.M.C.A. for its fine wartime effort on behalf of the British people was paid by Rt. Hon. Malcolm MacDonald, former British High Commissioner in Canada, prior to leaving the Dominion.

"I have been asked by the Secretary of State for Dominion Affairs, on behalf of the government of the United Kingdom, to thank you most sincerely and through you all those associated with the Canadian Y.M.C.A.'s War Service, for the very generous help you gave our people during the war," he wrote J. W. Beaton, senior secretary for national "Y" war services.

Ask City to Restore Lawn, Tear Up Road

The city council is being requested to make proper compensation and restore property taken from the premises at 428 Arnold Street to make Hamley Street a through street to Arnold.

G. H. Sedger, who is acting on behalf of the owners, alleged that the city took a strip of the property without permission of the owners and without obtaining title or paying for it.

He asks that the original boundary line of the property be re-stored, the street improvements be removed and the lawn replanted, erect a suitable fence at the street boundary, and provide compensation for the loss of use and enjoyment of the lands.

Library Service For Peace River Area

C. K. Morison, superintendent of Public Library Commission, announced today the beginning of a school and public library service for the Peace River area with headquarters at Dawson Creek. Miss Margaret F. Strachan, now of the Vancouver Public Library staff, will be in charge of the Peace River circulating library service. This is the second such traveling library area in British Columbia. The first was established at Prince George in 1930.

Victoria Horticultural Society's prize lists are now ready. Call at Ald. D. D. McTavish's office, 607 Fort Street, and get your copy.

The English Music Hall returns to the stage of the York Theatre today, when Britain's favorite entertainers present "The Overseas Follies," direct from the stages of England, France and Germany after doing 1,065 performances for our armed forces.
This premier overseas show unit presents in person, some of England's top flight stage stars, including Dorothy Merrall singing sweet music, Strauss waltzes; Benny Silverton, the BBC's favorite musician and violinist; Irene Hughes, London's Miss Twinkling Legs and ballet dancer; Jimmy Devon, former "Dumbells" star, and favorite comedian of the music halls in England and South Africa; magical, musical, Daphne McFarlane from Plymouth; Charlie Stevens presenting puckish comedy; and Jack Ayre, former "Dumbells" star and musical maestro.
On the screen will be shown for the first time in Victoria, "Club Havana," starring Tom Neil and Margaret Lindsay, and featuring the music of Carlos Molina and his orchestra.

DOMINION THEATRE
Several times during his career as an actor, Larry Parks, Columbia Pictures contract player, stepped up to Old Man Opportunity and before the latter knew he had anything to knock about, quietly relieved him of a pending chore. Currently, Parks has the best role of his career in the studio's "Counter-Attack," starring Paul Muni with Marguerite Chapman and Parks as featured players at the Dominion Theatre.

CAPITOL THEATRE
Playing a featured role in Warner Bros. technicolor adventure film, "San Antonio," currently at the Capitol, is sort of "old home week" for Florence Bates, as the noted character actress was born and reared in the famous Texas city and lived there almost continuously until she moved to Hollywood in 1936.
Reminiscing about her girlhood days in San Antonio while working on location at Warner Bros. Calabasas ranch, Miss Bates, who readily admits to 56 years "enjoyed" in this world, revealed that her parents first settled in San Antonio in 1878—year of the famous Baxer County cattle war, on which historical event her current picture is based.

OAK BAY AND PLAZA THEATRES
Rosalind Russell and Lee Bowman, currently starring in Columbia Pictures' gay comedy, "She Wouldn't Say Yes," at the Oak Bay and Plaza Theatres will continue their run until Saturday. French Song Leads To M-G-M Film Role
Because he sang a song in French, Robert Stanton got the romantic lead in "Bud Abbott and Lou Costello in Hollywood," which M-G-M is now presenting at the Atlas Theatre.
As Bob Haymes, radio singer inducted into the army, Stanton recorded a song in French at an army base and by chance Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer producer Martin Gosch heard the recording and was enthusiastic. He said that some day he'd like to use that voice in a film.
Stanton received an honorable discharge from the service at the same time Gosch was preparing "Bud Abbott and Lou Costello in Hollywood" for the cameras. The producer noted an item in the paper regarding Stanton and contacted the singer at Columbia studios, where he was under contract.
Now Bob Haymes, renamed Robert Stanton, appears in the new M-G-M musical—and all because he made a record in French.

Hollywood Column
By BOB THOMAS
HOLLYWOOD (AP) — The current movie cowboys, says producer Harry Sherman of horse-ops fame, are a bunch of yodeling pantywaists who scarcely know which end of the horse is which.
Sherman, who is preparing Luke Short's hard-hitting "Ramrod" for Enterprise Productions, is an advocate of the old-style of western hero—the laconic outdoor man who prefers action to words. That's why Sherman is down on the present crop.
"In the first place," he declared, "most of them spend a lot of their time singing. Now anybody who is familiar with the west knows that cowboys aren't always whipping out a guitar and bursting into song. In fact, they don't sing much at all."
That ain't all, said Sherman, most of the western stars don't know how to ride.
"For instance, they are always making the horse rear on its hind legs. No real cowboy ever rears his horse except maybe in a parade. But these movie actors rear their horses because they don't know any better."
Take Roy Rogers, for example. He was born in Cincinnati, Ohio, and probably never was on a horse until they put him in western pictures.
Sherman, who has been making westerns since 1917, isn't worried, though. "These singing cowboys are just a fad," he said. "They'll blow over. The basic western formula will always remain." His formula:
"A good, straight-line story with a minimum of talk. And enough slam-bang action in the last two reels so you forget all about the plot."
Peggy Ann Garner gets her first screen romance with Lon McCallister in "Succeda Hoo, Snudda Hay" ... Catharine Hepburn resisted an offer to buy a new car. She prefers her 1938 convertible, which she bought only because she couldn't get parts for her 1930 jalopy.
"Life With Father" is Irene Dunne's first color picture ... The fat man and the thin man met for the first time on the Warners lot—Sidney Greenstreet and William Powell.
You'd think that acting in pictures would seem dull to British-born Reginald Denny after helping run a company that produced radio-controlled planes and other secret products in wartime. But no.
On the set of "The Short Happy Line of Francis Macomber," he talked like a young actor with his first role.
"I would much rather be acting than sitting around an office all day," he said, "so I decided to come back to pictures."
But he still retains 22 per cent of his radio plane company and keeps an eye on future development. He said the radio-guided plane has endless possibilities in such fields as crop dusting, pre-flight training, filming air traffic and controlling air traffic.
